Important Changes to Digimap

All the Roams get a new look, print and overlay features.

Digimap Roam is being redeveloped to allow it to take on the functionality that was previously only available in Carto. We are also using this opportunity to refresh all the Roam interfaces, giving them a clearer layout, additional print functionality and the ability to add in overlays such as hill shading postcodes and contours.

You will start to see these changes in July and we hope to have all the new features added to the interfaces by September.

EDINA's new mobile app for field work

Introducing Fieldtrip GB

EDINA have developed a new mobile mapping and data collection app called Fieldtrip GB. Designed to support teaching, learning and research, users can view maps and capture data in the field. It's currently free to download and use on iPhone and Android devices.

The key benefits:

1. High quality maps in both urban and rural areas
2. Save maps to phone to view them offline
3. Create custom data forms to collect your data
4. Export your data for use in GIS or Google Earth
